

MEATSMOKE

MEATSMOKE has evolved from an all tube bass amp with a mean edge into a hand-wired point-to-point 300-watt bass/guitar hybrid with a meaty clean channel that rivals the most beloved tube bass amps of the past, coupled with a high gain channel that achieves thick and searing tube distortion with incredible headroom and character, well suited to the most sinister metal tones as well as triumphant classic rock roar. Fully foot-switchable, fan-cooled, encased in a sturdy dovetailed Baltic birch enclosure stained the color of your choice, and fully guaranteed... musicians seeking plenty of diverse firepower need look no further. Multiple matching speaker cabinet options available.

MeatSmoke: $1799.99 (head alone)

4x12" speaker cabinet: $749.99

2x15" speaker cabinet: $749.99
